

Health, Safety and Wellbeing Policy Statement

Myself and the Senior Management Team are committed to taking all reasonable steps to provide safe and healthy working conditions for the prevention of work-related injury and ill health of our employees, subcontractors and stakeholders so everyone can go home safe and healthy every day.

This policy serves as reference point for our strategic goals which are implemented through our specific objectives within our HSQES plan to ensure priority is given to fulfil our legal and moral obligations, eliminate hazards and reduce risks.

Our commitment to continually improve our management system and overall performance is enabled using the Rail Industry's Risk Management Maturity model (RM³), a tool to help identify areas for improvement and provide a benchmark for year on year comparison.

Our AIM (Attitude, Influence, Management) principle seeks to empower and actively encourage you to promote positive behaviours and an open culture by outlining how we expect you to behave, how we will influence health, safety and wellbeing together and what your expectations should be of the Senior Management Team. This is put into practice through our 'Your AIM' Behavioural Safety Programme.

Attitude - What are our expectations of you?

- Taking reasonable care of your own health and safety and those who could be affected by your actions.
- Complying with the IMS procedures, plans, work instructions and any other industry rules/instructions.
- Promptly reporting all close calls, accidents, incidents, near misses and road traffic collisions without fear of blame.
- Promptly reporting unsafe behaviours to your Line Manager or Site Supervisor.
- Implement the 'work safe procedure where necessary to prevent unsafe working practices.
- Follow the Lifesaving Rules.
- Not intentionally or recklessly misuse or interfere with anything provided in the interest of health, safety or welfare.
- Wear personal protective equipment when and where specified.
- Actively participating in consultation with Managers and Supervisors on health, safety and wellbeing matters.
- Undergoing any health and safety training or assessments considered necessary for your role.

Influence - What we will do together:

- Hold each other accountable for health, safety and wellbeing and help each other to improve.
- Have clear and effective communication channels available to all employees, sub-contractors and stakeholders.
- Promote an open and honest reporting culture across the entire workforce.
- Promote an environment where our employees, sub-contractors and stakeholders have the confidence to challenge.
- Establish collaborative relationships with our client and supply chain partners to drive continual improvement.
- Promote the contribution to safety award scheme to influence a healthier and safer working environment.
- Review the IMS to determine its effectiveness and ensure continual improvement.
- Treat you and our sub-contractors consistently through application of the Fair Culture model.
- Consult with your Health and Safety representatives to develop measures to continuously improve.
- Implement the actions to deliver our HSQES objectives and strive to meet our strategic goals.

Management - What should be your expectations?

- Undertake suitable and sufficient risk assessments of the risks arising out of or in connection with your work.
- Listen and take reasonable action on any suggestions to improve on health, safety or wellbeing.
- Provide you with the health and safety training needed for you to do your job.
- Provide you with any health and safety equipment or protective clothing needed.
- Provide adequate welfare facilities.
- Investigate the causes of accidents and ill-health that may be in connection with work.
- Ensure suitable and adequate resources are provided.
- Fair and consistent treatment of all employees and sub-contractors through listening, involvement and recognition.
- Advancement in our behavioural based safety training for all our employees and strive to include sub-contractors.
- To be highly visible in the support and encouragement of the delivery of the HSQES objectives and lead by example.

Myself and the Senior Management Team will monitor our performance against the commitments laid out in this policy.

This policy will be reviewed annually, and where necessary, revised to ensure it reflects the nature of our organisation.
